DEMETRIUS FONTAINE

So she found them text messages in your cell. Her friend saw you out in the club. She figured out the password to your e-mail. Don't panic. You got caught. And? Look, they basically expect us to cheat. Women outnumber men by 15%. It's a buyer's market. Don't be mad at me. Be mad at economics. Be mad at biology. We're wired to find as many partners as possible; for the survival of the species! It's a post-9/11 world. We doin' this for the sake of humanity! So yeah you cheated. What? You 'sposed to feel guilty now? Aight. Go on ahead and feel guilty. You're a romantic. But ask yourself: Would she respect you if you didn't cheat? Real talk.
